Coal Oil Johnny.
And John D. R.
Two Kinds of Rich;
Men, Understand Them!

BY ARTHUR BRISMAN

Today Coal Oil Johnny is dead. His life teaches the foolishness of disliking or antagonizing wealth for its sake. Coal Oil Johnny (real name John W. Steele), was intended for a hard working, useful farmer. Providence located him on a small farm, just where he "belonged." But he struck oil on the farm where he lived with his mother. She put the money away carefully, until one day, when the fire was low, she drew a little oil on it. That ended it, and Johnny got the fortune.

He had five hundred thousand dollars in gold and greenbacks, with a thousand dollars a day coming in. He did many things. He took a bath in champagne, hired a big hotel, invited everybody to join in free, ran his own minstrel show without charging admission, bought another hotel because he wanted the satisfaction of discharging a clerk that had failed to appreciate his importance.

He has just died in poverty, working for a railroad and living with his life in one end of a little railroad station in Nebraska. A thousand dollars a day, and Coal Oil Johnny spent it all wastefully. That is really "dangerous" wealth; it ruins the owner and ruins others.

The other kind of oil man, John D. Rockefeller, has one hundred thousand dollars a day, and a great deal more. The money is not wasted, not spent in ostentation. Hundreds of millions of it have gone to education and philanthropy, and what is more important, to scientific investigation that benefits every human being on earth.

It could be better, of course, if the people could own, develop and use wisely, the nation's natural wealth. But do not overlook the difference between oil wealth as represented by Coal Oil Johnny—a fiasco, a calamity and a waste—and oil wealth as represented by John D. Rockefeller, who employed the ablest engineers to produce his wealth, and then employed the ablest scientists and educators to help him spend it.

It isn't what a man has, it is what he does with what he has, what he wastes, his corrupting influence on legislation, the discontent he creates in others by ostentation, his encouragement of vice and dishonesty, via the race tracks, and other things that sometimes make excessive wealth criminally harmful.

George P. Hamilton, manager director of the Farmers' National Council, gives you figures about wealth that are supposed to make you shiver. He says: "The thirty-three richest Americans in 1918 owned nearly five thousand million dollars. He is mistaken. The thirty-three richest Americans owned a great deal more than that, but they do not say much about it."

Two per cent of the entire national wealth, says Mr. Hamilton, is owned by thirty-three richest Americans. That also is inaccurate for twenty-five per cent of the national wealth is human labor, and intelligence is owned by individuals, at least technically, all free.

The thing to worry about is not the amount that any individual owns, but how he got it and what he does with it. Leaving out gamblers, profiteers and other thieves, great fortunes are usually built up by hard effort, self-control, efficiency, and especially by improved methods of organization and industrial production.

Improved industry, greater production, better organization are of the utmost importance and greatest value to this nation. The number of millions that an individual may acquire by real work in the course of his organizing and producing is of little importance, provided the money he not used ill.

Coal Oil Johnny, taking his bath in champagne bubbles, and John D. Rockefeller, sipping his milk and seltzer, and driving his little white ball along the golf course, present two extremes of wealth.

Coal Oil Johnny proves nature's wisdom, her marvelous ability for eliminating the unfit.

John D. Rockefeller also illustrates nature's wisdom in utilizing the extraordinary ability of individuals to benefit the human race.

Caesar thought he was conquering for himself; he was really carrying civilization into Gaul.

Christopher Columbus was trying to benefit himself by finding a short cut to India, when he found a new world for all of us.

Louis the Fourteenth, poor fool with curly wig and red heels, called himself the Sun King and imagined that he was building magnificent palaces, spending a nation's wealth only for his own amusement and glory.

He created an atmosphere false in itself, yet with hot house qualities that had its greatest development.

John D. Rockefeller will be remembered in history, like Louis, the Eleventh of France, among those whose real worth was not understood even by themselves. Louis the Eleventh

BRITISH CLAIM AGENTS IN N. Y. IN PLOT WITH IRISH AGAINST ENGLISH

NEW HOME RULE ACT TO BRING PEACE TO IRELAND, IS REPORT

LONDON, Jan. 6.—(The White Paper) which the British government prepared to substantiate Lloyd George's allegations of Irish assistance to Germany during the war will contain proof that plans were undertaken for the landing of German troops in Ireland. It was learned today authoritatively. The paper will be issued in a few days.

It is reported authoritatively that the source of the document names an Irish-American leader in New York as the chief intermediary in the German plotting. Many of these negotiations, it is said, occurred through agents in New York.

Peace in Sight (United Press.)

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—(Copyrighted by United Press.)—Peace in Ireland on the basis of the new Home Rule act was regarded as a certainty here today. Only the most radical believe Ireland can win complete freedom through indefinite fighting.

Peace, which is expected, however, probably will not come until there has been another outbreak of violence and Dublin is put under martial law, according to observations.

DeValera, returned president, is a big factor in the situation. A statement from him is expected hourly. It is believed that the message will advocate peace.

In the meantime soldiers continue raiding Sinn Fein gathering places. Pending developments of peace or further violence, Dublin is living in nervous expectancy, with normal life during the day, but at night military enforce the curfew law.

DeValera Holds out for Independence
(The Associated Press.)

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—DeValera, president of the Irish Republic, denies that the Sinn Fein is making peace overtures to England, says the Freeman's Journal. DeValera is quoted as saying he would not turn a deaf ear to English proposals if they are based upon recognition of Ireland as an independent nation.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE HOUSE SET AT 483; MANY STATES GAIN

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The House census committee today agreed to report the bill fixing membership of the House at 483, an increase of 48 over the present number, and recommended a constitutional amendment limiting membership of future Houses to 500, the basis for representation of one member for every 218,979 inhabitants. The states would gain as follows: California, 5; Michigan, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, 4 each; Illinois and Texas, 3; Massachusetts, New Jersey and North Carolina, 2; Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Georgia, Maryland, Minnesota, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin, 1. No state would lose any representation.

CONSPIRACY FOUND TO BOOST PRICES OF BUILDING HOMES

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A nationwide conspiracy to boost prices for construction of homes has been unearthed by the senate committee on reconstruction, Senator Calder of New York, chairman said today.

This conspiracy will be exposed by the committee when it resumes its investigation of the housing shortage next week, he said. Calder also said he was considering the introduction of a bill requiring manufacturers and labor organizations to secure federal charters.

(International News Service.)

ATLANTA, Jan. 6.—By a new contract just signed street car men receive a two per cent increase during this year. Both sides say the agreement is harmonious.

SIX MEN AND A WOMAN, ALLEGED WIRETAPPERS, ARE HELD IN MEMPHIS

(United Press.)

MEMPHIS, Jan. 6.—Police today believed the six men and one woman arrested last night in a raid on a local hotel are members of a wiretapping swindle gang, which are alleged to have endeavored to swindle a Memphis business man out of $60,000. They are being held for an investigation.

BOOTLEGGERS GAVE A CAPTAIN BOOZE FUNDS, NOW HE'LL SPEND IT

(International News Service.)

MOBILE, Jan. 6.—A message was received today from the captain of a schooner plying between Mobile and Cuban ports, say that he had decided to use the $40,000 while Mobile bootleggers raised and gave him to buy a cargo of liquor for the Christmas holidays, to go into business in Havana for himself.

Wiretapper Easy Money for The Chauffeur, Waiter and Bootlegger; Why Drive Him Out?

Wiretappers or not, wiretappers? That is the question. While all men (and in this event men embrace women) object to giving up to wiretappers to the tune of five thousand or more, yet there are a certain class of citizens who defend wiretappers and justify their presence in the community. They favor them on the ground that they are good spenders, that they are free with their money and put kale in circulation which would otherwise remain dormant. In other words, they live things up, contribute to the night life, wear expensive clothes and don't object to getting the worst of it when they buy anything, and seldom complain when they get poor service. Not a few business men really like to see wiretappers around, and until public sentiment can be aroused to the point where the wiretapper is considered in the same light as any other crook, public officials may be expected to let such gentry operate in their own sweet way. On the other hand, if these tolerant business men thought that the wiretapper was likely to go after their money the same as a burglar or blackjack artist they would set up a howl that could be heard from here to Kalamazoo.

In order to accurately ascertain sentiment and derive the correct local view a representative of the Daytona Daily News interviewed a few local celebrities who really like to see wiretappers around. None of them would agree to permit the publishing of their names, but they were outspoken in their views. A few interviews follow:

A public official said: "It is alleged that wiretappers are in our midst. How do we know they are wiretappers? If anyone will file an affidavit against any individual charging a specific violation of the law an arrest will follow. We can't arrest on suspicion."

"But you do frequently arrest on suspicion," the reporter remarked.

"Well, an arrest on suspicion is usually of some poor devil who has no money or friends, and these alleged wiretappers usually have money and can give bond."

"In other words," said the reporter, "if a man has money and can put up a cash bond he is above the law."

"Let me finish," retorted the official. "I do not admit that wiretappers are operating here or ever have operated here, but if they do it is the duty of the person who knows of their presence to have them apprehended."

"What are the police, the sheriff and his deputies and the constables for if it isn't to stop the work of admitted law breakers. If you knew a burglar or highwayman was loitering on Beach street waiting for a dark and stormy night on which to ply his trade, wouldn't it be the duty of the peace officers, men who are paid to enforce the law, to put the criminal before he could commit a foul deed?" queried the reporter, and the official turned away in disgust.

A chauffeur who had overheard the above conversation came to the defense of the wiretappers. He said: "You guys make me tired. I'd bust you for 2 cents. These wiretappers are good sports. Course we have wiretappers in Daytona, and I hope they will come again. They spend their money. I say they do. They will take a machine and ride the girls at night and don't care what you charge them and give good tips to boot. What we need is live guys in this burg, and wiretappers are sure."

WOMAN ELECTED TO BE SPEAKER OF BRITISH COLUMBIA LEGISLATURE

(The Associated Press.)

VICTORIA, Jan. 6.—A woman will be the next speaker of the British Columbia legislature, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, the newly elected representative from Vancouver, received such a large plurality in the recent election that the cabinet named her for the speakership today.

live. They know a poor chauffeur has to live and smear the velvet in his palm. No cheap skates or tin-can tourists among the "tappers."

A well-known bootlegger came to the defense of the wiretappers on another occasion. He remarked: "Wiretappers are all right. They pay top prices for booze and don't squeal if you occasionally slip them a quart of water instead of the real stuff. They don't bother at all, but these poor girls who fall for their lay certainly yell to High Heaven. Me for a wiretapper every time. I never will vote for a man who drives out wiretappers. If they had a hundred in town I could retire after this season with enough money to break into society with."

A waiter voiced the opinion that wiretappers give good tips. "That is what makes a town liberal tipper," he declared, and continued: "Don't we come down here to get the money, and how is we going to get it if nobody eats nothing they don't have to and never gives up to a hard working waiter. Gee, it would be great to work in a restaurant where nothing but wiretappers dined; yes, dine is the right word; they dine, they sho lo, with a capital D."

A merchant was of the opinion that wiretappers did not hurt the town. He said: "It is no secret that wiretappers have been here during past seasons, and a few have been here prospecting around this season. However, they do not bother local tourists, but bring their victims from other places. Personally I have profited by the presence of these men. They wear expensive clothing, buy handsome things in the way of presents, and put a good deal of money in circulation. They do not use strong arm tactics or outrage the community, as they usually get their victim away from town before he realizes that he has been trimmed. If a boob wants to bite at their game let them bite; there is a sucker born every minute. Wiretappers help business."

"So would a good burglar if permitted to bring his gang to town and walk around unmolested," was the remark of the reporter.

"Don't associate a common burglar with a wiretapper," said the business man.

"No," shrugged the reporter, "the burglar keeps under cover while the wiretapper lives at the best hotels or finest apartments, drinks good liquor, rides the girls around in taxis, gives generous tips and buys expensive clothes, therefore he should be permitted to rob his victims and be pointed out as a desirable resident."

Another party vouched the information that a wiretapper is the easiest person to short change in the world. For instance, in paying a check at a restaurant they usually flash a $20 bill and shove the change in their pocket without counting it. If the cashier wants to they can hold out two or three dollars and the tapper never knows the difference, or if he does he keeps his mouth shut. Three years ago one cashier made on an average of from $5 to $10 a day short-changing wire tappers. This particular cashier considered "tappers the 'biggest fish in the world.'"

A real estate dealer remarked: "I don't mind renting a house to a wiretapper, because I make them pay three prices, and they usually fix things up. They don't do things by halves. Like a spider they weave a good web."

NAVY SELLING MANY PLANES TO ENCOURAGE COMMERCIAL AVIATION

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—To encourage development of commercial aerial transportation and development of civilians as airplane pilots for use in wartime, the navy department authorized the sale of 126 coast patrol flying boats at one-third the cost price.

MAHON, Jan. 6.—Another senate irreconcilable, Senator Sherman of Illinois, was among those Harding had engagements with today to discuss a plan for an Association of Nations. Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, leader of Roosevelt's progressive party in 1912, was also on the engagement list. Harding sought his advice regarding international and domestic questions.

POLITICAL ENEMIES OF HOOVER MAY KEEP HIM OUT OF CABINET

(United Press.)

MAHON, Jan. 6.—Powerful political enemies may succeed in keeping Herbert Hoover out of the Harding cabinet, according to information received today. He had been tentatively slated for a portfolio, probably that of secretary of labor. Letters by scores opposing him have been received by Harding. Senators Penrose and Hiram Johnson are strongly against his appointment, it was said.

TOWN TOPICS SUED BY MRS. BONAPARTE FOR A HUNDRED THOUSAND

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Charging that she has been held up a social butterfly, guilty of snobbish and un-American conduct, Mrs. Blanche Bonaparte, of New York, Washington, Newport and Palm Beach, has begun a hundred thousand dollar libel suit against Town Topics, it was learned today. She is the wife of a grandson of Jerome Napoleon, king of West-Phalia.

PAY $20,000 FOR A SOCCER PLAYER, A HIGH RECORD PRICE

(The Associated Press.)

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 6.—Soccer, the English national game, like organized baseball in this country, has come into an era of high player values. There has been no transaction rivaling the "Babe" Ruth deal for $100,000 as yet, but word has been received here of the sale for $20,000 of Stanley Fazzackerly, a crack soccer forward, who played on local fields for nothing a few years ago. The price of his purchase by the Everton club in England was said to set the high mark for the British national sport.

UNOFFICIAL TIME CAUGHT TODAY; ALL READY FOR TIMERS

Ralph Mulford, in his Paige stock car this afternoon smashed the world record for stock cars, making a mile in 34 3-5 seconds, or at the rate of between 104 and 105 miles per hour, the fastest mile ever traveled in a stock car. The world record, also held by Mulford, is 102 miles per hour, made here four years ago. Mulford is all set now for the official records, which will be run in the presence of the officials of the Triple A, upon their arrival here.

Because of the failure of several members of the contest board of the American Automobile association, official timer and starter to arrive in the Triple Cities today, on account of illness to one of the party, the official trials to be run by Ralph Mulford in a Paige for world records in stock cars on Daytona Beach have been indefinitely postponed, it being stated by Mr. Mulford this afternoon that in all probability it would be next week before everything would be in ship-shape for the trials.

Wires are out at this time to learn definitely when Official Timer Capt. R. A. Leavelle, Starter Fred J. Wagner and members of the contest board of the Triple A will be able to reach Daytona Beach. It is believed, however, that everything will be in readiness during the coming week for trials, as all is set by the absence of the officials.

Made 98 Miles per Hour this Morning.
With a stiff wind blowing down the beach today, Mulford had his racing car out for a last timing run before he tears the engine down for a complete overhauling. He made a mile at the rate of 98 miles per hour, which is but four miles per hour slower than the world record which he now holds for stock cars, which was followed this afternoon by the fastest mile, at 104 miles per hour.

Announcement of the definite time and date for the world record trials will be made through the press, so that spectators may be on hand for the big event.

Amateur Races Called Off.

The plan to put on amateur events at the time Mulford goes after world records has been abandoned. Efforts were made this morning to line up a half dozen speed cars in Jacksonville, but as their appearance would call for a prize of $500, and other expenses, and because of the uncertainty as to when Mulford can go after records, due to the non-arrival of the officials, it was decided by the amateur racing committee of the Daytona Beach Motor Racing association, following a conference with Mulford at noon, that the planned events would be called off.

There is a possibility, however, that the amateur events may be put on the latter part of next week, depending on the interest displayed by local speedsters.

CROWDER'S ARRIVAL IN CUBA SPURRING THEM INTO ACTION

(International News Service.)

HAVANA, Jan. 6.—The arrival of Major General Enoch Crowder, of the United States army, with wide powers to investigate the political and financial situation in Cuba as a possible preliminary to American intervention, has spurred the government to action. An interparliamentary committee is today discussing immediate remedial legislation. The veterans' council held a meeting to protest against intervention. The United States gunboat Asheville has arrived.

CANADA LEADS US

After reading about how we Americans are treating our own disabled heroes of the World War it is turning to a brighter page to note Canada's liberally sympathetic manner of handling her disabled soldiers. This despite Canada's smaller purse and larger proportion of disabled veterans.

Long before the war came to an end Canada had her hospital program in good working order. Today there is hardly a ripple of discontent over the Canadian government's treatment of Canadian disabled. The United States did nothing, before the war was over, toward a disability program, and has done little since peace came.

Compared to the United States Canada is poor. Yet Canada gives her disabled veterans a larger pension than the United States gives. Canada gives more understanding. The United States hands to each disabled hero $1200 a year, paying the single man as much as the father of a large family. This, you must admit, isn't fair to the children and the wife of the disabled father. Yet that's the way Uncle Sam does it! Canada pays the single man but $500. The living cost is lower in Canada and Canada has less wealth with which to pay.
 But she pays the married man $300 additional, plus $150 for the first child, $144 for the second, and $120 for each of the others, more for her stricken heroes than we do for ours?

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Congress should bear in mind, as it whips appropriation bills into shape these bits of information gleaned from the latest report of the depart-

The public debt of the United States, apportioned among all people, men, women and children, makes a debt of $235.40 for each and every American to pay.

One hundred years ago the percapita debt was $9.44; in 1916 it was but $9.55.

Does the federal government nurse nickles? Not so you can notice it!

Turning again to the same report one learns that the federal government took $62.42 per capita to keep the wheels of government running.
 Well, granted, eh? It only cost $43.70 per capita in 1915, and in the year the war ended the cost per citizen was but $39.70. And in 1916 it was but $7.62.

The deeper into debt Uncle Sam gets the more inclined he is to tie wings to his dollars.

GASTRONOMIC DISCOVERY

Chinese in America long have languished for potatoes of their liking.
 Never have they been able to acquire a taste for the Irish spud, nor have they taken with glee to the sweet potato of the South. What they wanted was the spud of their ancestors.
 But it seems they couldn't get the Chinese spud over here, for some reason or other.

Then came the discovery of choice

Hankins says:

We have just received a fresh shipment of Pompeia toilet preparations.
 You will find them in both stores.

HANKINS DRUG CO.

wet spot in Wisconsin where one may grow the spud of Chinese taste. Hundreds of barrels of these Chinese spuds were grown in the lakes of that state this summer and now are gladdening the hearts of Chinatowns the country over.

In the language of a New York chef, the Chinese spud "is a cross between a tadpole and a toadstool in appearance, and after three hours' boiling is as tough as a Bowery bum."
 The price though, is $33.50 the barrel as compared to $3.50 for regular potatoes.

The great human taste is a peculiar thing, isn't it? A few centuries of training an appetite will make sole-leather preferable to tenderloin.

MORE HOT AIR

Congress has determined to pump more hot air into itself. The house of representatives is to increase the membership roll, the payroll, the supply of words (mostly useless), and the number of bills introduced.

And while thus swelling itself up into a still more unwieldy body, the house decreases its possibilities in the matter of enacting needed legislation quickly.

There'll be just that many more members to talk (for home consumption.)
 There'll be more salaries for the politicians to scramble over.

There'll be more salaries for the people to pay.

ALLANDALE NEWS

ALLANDALE, Jan. 6.—On New Years eve a very pleasant surprise was given, a masked party and some of costumes were most original and unique, especially the lady that was looking for a man and advertised the fact by the placard on her back. After the unmasking there was more surprise when the wearers made themselves known. Dancing for the dancers and cards for the card players.
 Refreshments were served in the form of ice cream cones and cake.
 The party remained until the year 1920 passed out and 1921 was ushered in. All those that were present were very glad they came and those that did not come were full of regrets as the whole affair was full of fun and good time.

At the annual meeting of the Al-landale Improvement association held on Monday night all the officers of last year were re-elected except that of President A. O. Hicks declining to serve another term and Chris Suppes the vice president for the past two years was elected in his place. The trustees elected for three years were Alfred O. Hicks, Mrs. A. G. Baker and Ernest Suppes. The meeting was well attended and several new projects were introduced and committees were named to see that they were carried out. On Friday, Jan. 14, the fifth anniversary will be celebrated and the new president will be installed in the chair. The old Spanish sugar kettle has been moved to the corner of Commonwealth and Riverside and will be mounted on a coquina base and will be an ornament and a land mark. The librarian read his report which showed an increase of 155 books during the year and that some 500 books had been taken from the library to be read. The membership had been up to the average and the attendance at meetings fairly good, the finances were in good shape and no debts, the association should increase in membership during the coming year, and the prospects that the membership roll will be added to by at least 50 per cent. Every property owner should be a member and an active one so as to help make Allandale one of the most attractive spots on the east coast. We have the location, natural beauty and the most delightful set of people all working for the good of all, and if you are an owner join with us and see Allandale grow.

At Ye Inn during the past week there has been several parties stopping off for lunch and dinner and have found entertainment as fine as of aged and look forward to a very successful season.

ORMOND

ORMOND, Jan. 5.—Wm. Fagan and family have gone to Fernandina for an indefinite time, leaving his place in charge of Mr. Fisher.

Mr. Ellsworth has returned from Connecticut for the season and is at home on Lincoln avenue.

Mr. Morrison had a fall Tuesday, seriously injuring one of his knee caps, hence his absence from the Brown store for a time.

Dr. and Mrs. Richmond are again in Ormond after a trip to Knoxville, Tenn., called there on account of illness and death of his son.

Mrs. Britt is now assisting Mrs.
 Simrall in the postoffice. Mails are heavy and will grow more so.

The Hotel Ormond opens Jan. 6th for the season, a large number of help arriving of late. Pullman trains now cross the river direct to the hotel, much to the pleasure of the patrons and guests.

The New Year's reception of the Ormond Village Improvement association was held in the Auditorium
 New Year's Eve. More than one hundred members and their friends were present to enjoy the meeting of old friends and also to welcome the many new people who are spending the winter in town. The Auditorium was most attractive with its decorations of southern amilax, magnolia branches and the palm tree. A pleasing musical program was given by Mrs. La-Vergne Edwards, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Hubert Price and the Misses Durix and Bernice Edwards.
 Also enjoyable vocal solos were given by Mrs. David Seabloom, Mrs. Har-bert Price and Miss Doris Edwards.
 Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served after which dancing was indulged in for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Dean of Jacksonville expect to move here from that city within a few days for the winter. Mr. Dean represents a wholesale grocery house on the road.

AND ISN'T IT strange.

THAT IT'S never said.

OF THE kindly man.

WHOSE LIFE is clean.

AND WHO never fails.

IF WHAT he owes.

TO EVERYONE.

AND JUST today.

AS I write this.

I'VE READ a tale.

ABOUT A man.

WHO IN his youth.

CUT LOOSE the bonds.

THAT HELD him.

TO HIS mother's home.

AND DRIFTED.

INTO WICKEDNESS.

AND DRINK.

AND DOPE.

AND STOLE.

AND KILLED.

AND WENT to jail.

AND THEN came out.

AND STOLE again.

Seabreeze Girls' Basketball Team to Play Duvals

The girls' basketball team of the Seabreeze-Daytona Beach High school will meet the Duval Tigerettes in Jacksonville Saturday in what promises to be one of the fastest games in the state this season. The Peninsula girls' team is all primed for the game and promise a fast and furious game for Saturday in the state metropolis.

In speaking of the coming game the Times-Union has the following characteristic article:
"The basketball fans of the city will have their first opportunity of the season to see the Duval Tigerettes play Saturday night when they stack up against the famous Seabreeze-Daytona team. The Tigerettes have been practicing faithfully for the last month under Coach Barchan and are now ready to begin their fight for the championship. The Tigerettes won the championship last year after a hard fight, and their ambitions are to repeat this year. Coach Barchan is not a 'rookie' when it comes to turning out championship teams. Two years ago Barchan coached the Gainesville, Ga. girls and won the championship of Georgia that year. This season he hopes to continue his good luck by keeping true to his name, 'The Championship Coach.'"

"Miss Radger, captain and guard, is playing the best game she has ever played in her life. The Tigerettes are fortunate in having such a wonderful captain. Misses Duval and Burns, the heavyweights of the team, are getting better every day and it will take an extra good pair of forwards to get by this brace of guards.
"The Hyde twins, Lina and Lillian, are playing true to form. As basketball players there are few we have seen that are better than these two at their positions.
"Misses Stubbs and Hall, the hard working forwards, are getting their eyes better on the basket every day, and when they get to ringing them it takes an adding machine to keep up with the score.
"Misses Rankin and Turner are showing their colors and will yet make somebody hustle for a position. Misses Chambers and Sompayrac have the other girls guessing what they are going to do next. That's right, keep up the good work and keep them guessing. Now, gentle reader, if you think these girls have easy pickings on their hands when they play the Seabreeze girls you are wrong, as the Seabreeze girls have a very good team and know the game from A to Z. The Seabreeze team has Miss Hanson, last year's star Duval forward, playing with them, and Miss Hanson is a whole team by herself. As a forward there are few, if any, who can reach here in the state. She is something near six feet or more in height and can ring baskets with ease."

Comfort Station Being Built on Beach Playgrounds; Other Improvements Are Under Way

They asked and they are receiving. Probably the happiest company of sports in Daytona Beach today are W. R. Cole of Detroit, official umpire for the playgrounds, and J. B. Chambers of Kentucky, N. C. Water and C. H. Drum of Michigan and William Anderson of Iowa, the playgrounds committee, that waited on the council Monday evening.

Bright and early Wednesday morning the city wagons began unloading the necessary dirt to improve the croquet and horseshoe pitching grounds, and the deliveries from the lumber yards began to bring the necessary lumber to construct a comfort station, to repair the croquet grounds and to make new checker boards. These gentlemen express themselves as delighted with the promptness with which the city fathers responded to their desires.

They were so tickled, in fact, that they took off their coats and started right in to make use of the new material. Attorney Weiler acted like an old-time carpenter, Umpire Cole was the director general, Mr. Anderson gave the advice, Mr. Drum did most of the work, and Mr. Chambers practically did all of the talking.
Those looking after the job say that within a couple of days the playgrounds, no great will be the improvement. Two new croquet grounds will be put in excellent shape—another for the men and one for the women. New balls and mallets have been ordered and are expected by the time the grounds are ready. In most resort towns the women play croquet as much as the men, but they have never had any grounds for their special use here. Now they will be close to their brethren and it may be that the new grounds will result in this town taking on women partners on their grounds.

Sufficient lumber has been delivered to make all the checker boards that will be needed, while the new comfort station is already in course of construction. With Attorney Weiler, who is at home at croquet, checker or golf as the advisory architect, while N. E. Kinney of Springfield, Ill., whose father was a neighbor and friend of Abraham Lincoln, as the chief inspector.
As soon as a suitable comfort station is provided on Main street for women and children, the tourist committee say the immediate necessities will be pretty well taken care of.
Sarcely the promptness of the council in making quick response to the requests of the visitors is commendable. As a matter of fact, the committee representing the tourists made no demands or threats, but simply told the councilmen what was really necessary for their comfort, and they are getting "Johnny on the spot."

Mount Clemens Doctor and Wife to Settle Here

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Allan, guests for some time of the Daytona Beach hotel, made a hurried trip to Tampa last Saturday, returning Tuesday. While there Dr. Allan concluded to invest $45,000 in the orange plantation started by the late Mrs. Foster Palmer of Chicago. He has decided to buy two 16 acre tracts and one 15 acre tract that is delightfully located for selling. No man living likes to fish better than the doctor, and he has been coming to the beach for that purpose for several years. He has for years been the owner of a large sanitarium at Mt. Clemens, Mich., his home town, and he left yesterday to close a deal, which he has pending, for the disposal of that property. He says he has made up his mind to spend the rest of his life in Florida's delightful climate. He hopes to have a launch and put in a good deal of time "cruising." Mrs. Allan will remain here until her husband closes up his business affairs in Michigan, and she says it is altogether likely she and the doctor will spend the rest of the winter at the Daytona Beach hotel, of which they are old and valued friends. Mrs. Allan says she is just as anxious as her husband to make their future home in the land of "sunshine and flowers."

FIND LOT OF TOURISTS AT BEACH PLAYGROUNDS

Among the congenial guests at the beach this year are Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenney of Springfield, Ill. They are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Baker of Pawnee, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kelsacker, also of Springfield. The three women are sisters, and they are very comfortably located in the cottage at 227 Hollywood avenue.

Mr. Kenney is very much in love with the beach, and he is particularly pleased with the class of people he meets here. He takes a lively interest in the playground and is about there much of the time, although he does not often actively participate in the sports. The people here Mr. Kenney said:
"There are many chess contests pulled off every day on these grounds, and many of them late evening, and naturally there is now and then a little contention among the players, but it is very seldom that I hear an inappropriate word spoken. In walking the street in my home town of Springfield, Ill., I hear more abuse than I do in two weeks on the playgrounds. To me it is remarkable as practically every one I have met here has every appearance of being a gentleman, and if there are any exceptions I have not found them. All we must depend on are the people with whom we mingle for our real pleasures in life, then from any other source, and I know that I am very proud to be associated with the people who are this year at Daytona Beach. To my mind they are high class intellectually and morally."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Matija, of E. Smith, W. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Van Orman and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harwood, all of whom are in the neighborhood of Annapolis and Annapolis, Md., arrived yesterday and are guests of the Dixie hotel.

"Stream of Life" a Masterpiece of Christian Thought

It is rare that a community has the opportunity to see a moving picture of the character of the "Stream of Life," which will be shown at the Auditorium next Saturday night, to wit: with two precedents.

Of the "Stream of Life" Dr. Ferdinand C. Igler, D. D., of the Christian Herald, New York City, says:
"Dr. Schuler's moving picture story, 'The Stream of Life,' is so lofty in its intellectual conception, so beautiful in its artistic representation, so true to nature, so tender and even in sentiment, so clean in its morals and beautiful in its spiritual vigor, that it grips me as few things have ever done in literature, oratory, or any realm of fine art. In those days when there is so much humor that is dull, so much wit that is cheap and low, so much laughter that is silly, it is refreshing to see a picture story so sensible and serious. It has a touch of satire that melts the heart and softens the soul. At the close of the play I thought I was the only one who had seen the picture before. The audience was crying also.
"The 'Stream of Life' is a masterpiece. I wish every congregation in America could see it."

Bishop William F. Anderson of the Methodist church said: "I have seen under the new motion picture drama, 'The Stream of Life.' It is true to life. It has a high moral purpose and a powerful appeal. I heartily commend it to the people. Dr. Schuler, and credit for it a great success."

People in every part of the United States, wherever there is a church, a school, or a meeting house, are to be made familiar with a new kind of "movie." It is called the religious photo-drama and is the most recent addition to the constantly growing list of motion picture achievements.
The introduction of the religious photo-drama to the people of America is to be accomplished by the International Church Film Corporation, which has selected "The Stream of Life" for its first experiment.
The film of the latter picture movement has undoubtedly been influenced by the manner in which "The Stream of Life" is received. If the same enthusiasm which attended its initial exhibition is everywhere evidenced, there is no doubt but that the day of the cinema, which some picture will be considerably hastened.

Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Sealey are now occupying their handsome remodeled home on Peninsula drive, formerly the Bonaparte place.

Social Service Leader Speaker at Sunday Forum

For next Sunday's Forum the topic is "Can We Solve the Industrial Problem Without Revolution?"

Dr. Samuel Zane Batten of Philadelphia will be the speaker. He is chairman of the Social Service Commission of the Federal Council of Churches and has been one of the leaders of the country during the past 15 years in working out a solution of the social question. He comes recommended as a brilliant speaker with a big voice. It is very timely that this subject shall be thoroughly discussed, and it will be exceedingly interesting to learn Dr. Batten's opinion of the outcome of the industrial unrest and strife now permeating the entire country, and to learn if he has discovered any means by which a just and acceptable settlement of the problem in America can be reached. Owing to the general interest of this particular subject at this particular time, President R. S. Holmes anticipates that many will take part in the discussion.

Opera Perfect

Another very satisfactory audience greeted the second performance of "The Lost Princess" opening at the Auditorium Tuesday evening. While it was very difficult to improve upon the first performance of this entertainment, it must be admitted that the machinery of the play worked a little more smoothly, with a little more promptness and regularity than it did the first time. In fact, it is not extravagant to say that it was well high perfect.

Bringing this performance to The Triple Cities the Auditorium management is entitled to much credit, as to do so comprised quite a risk. Although too good houses greeted the performance the management will just barely escape with the expense. The printing bills have been very high and there are always many items of expense that are not considered in the preparation of the plans for such an enterprise. It must be understood in making calculations of how much it was necessary for the box office receipts to amount to, in order to give the management a clean sheet, that Mrs. Horstme R. Reynolds, the remarkable director, was paid a lump sum of $700, which included, of course, her expenses. It was necessary to guarantee her this amount as she had to come from Denver, Colo., which is in itself an expensive trip, and now is obliged to return to her home in Des Moines, Iowa. Mrs. Reynolds has been here a month and has worked untiringly night and day to make the affair a success. Of course it is possible that Mrs. Reynolds will be asked to put this performance on in some other Florida city before her return to the North.

Between acts at the Tuesday evening performance of "The Lost Princess," Dr. D. H. Butler pastor of the Community M. E. church, stated in Mrs. Reynolds' hall while in attendance at the opening of the picture that it was his privilege to see the "Stream of Life." He said the people were simply delighted with it and that it was the most wonderful moving picture he had ever seen.

E. O. Williams and daughter, Miss Lydia, of South Jacksonville, are guests of the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Williams. They came to pack their household goods in the cottage at 329 W. Main street, which they occupied for some time, in order to occupy them in Jacksonville. The wife and mother, Mrs. Lydia Williams, died after a lingering illness about a week ago. She is the mother and three children, Mrs. T. J. Smith and Ruth.

There are a few more good stage acts and a few more moving pictures to be shown. This can be seen in motion in the Auditorium next week. The price of the reserved seats in the performance is 75c.

Visitors Coming to the East Coast of Florida May Be Assured of Good Service and Reasonable Charges at the Hotels Listed in These Columns

PRINCE GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Heintzmann of Toronto, Canada, have been spending some time at the Prince George. Last year they spent the season in the Triple Cities, but had a cottage at Daytona Beach. This year they will spend most of the time at the Prince George. When leaving here last spring they left their Packard car in a local garage for a general overhaul, and upon their arrival found it in fine shape and ready for their use. They expect to leave this week for an extended trip through the state by auto, and will visit Palm Beach, Miami and possibly some of the west coast resorts, but will later return to the Prince George to finish the season. They have many friends among the guests there, and the time passes very pleasantly.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lamb and their son, Roy D. Lamb, of Chicago, Ill., have for the past two weeks been guests at the Prince George. They drove from Chicago in their car. The son has all his life been a great sufferer with asthma, and they are hoping that the wonderful climate here will improve his physical condition, and he seems to be getting splendid results. If he continues to improve the family will remain here for the winter, otherwise they will go further south. Mr. Lamb has visited all the east coast resorts and finds the climate of the Triple Cities the most excellent and says he surely finds it a very delightful change from the winter climate in his home city of Chicago.

Mr. Lamb has been retired from active business since 1910, but during his years of business activity he was engaged in the manufacture of the Michie printing press. He manufactured a high grade two color press, and the Michie continues to be one of the most popular and satisfactory presses in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Estep, Mrs. C. E. Beck and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whitcomb, who have been guests at the Prince George, left Tuesday for Miami and Palm Beach. Their homes are in Canton, Ohio. C. N. Cole, who has also been at the Prince George, has gone to Eustace, Fla.

Recent arrivals at the Prince George are:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Griffin and family and Mr. and Mrs. G. Connelley of Quebec, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heywood of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Rita Putnam of Excelsior, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lantier of Louisville, S. D.

RIDGEWOOD HOTEL

At the opening of the Ridgewood this week there was a happy reunion of many old time friends who season after season have been coming to Daytona to secure the benefits of the wonderful climate. Among them are Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Gardiner of New York City and Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Hays of St. Louis, Mo. Dr. Gardiner, who is very distinguished in his appearance, is one of the well known men of his profession in New York state and Mr. Hays is one of the proprietors of the Planter hotel in St. Louis.

Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Gardiner entertained their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Simms, of Jacksonville and Col. and Mrs. Lyman Hays at a breakfast dinner at the Sunset Park. Later in the evening the party was delightfully entertained at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew P. Cornwall in Ridgewood avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Simms have recently returned from a trip around the world. They have been absent for eight months on this trip and are thoroughly enjoying the home-coming and again mingling with old time friends.

HOTEL DESPLAND

Manager Butterfield of the Despland says that the beautiful warm sunny weather always finds his guests happy and contented, and surely since the opening of that hotel on Monday the newly arrived visitors can have no disappointments regarding Daytona as a winter resort.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor of La Port, Ind., are among the arrivals for the season. Mr. Taylor is an enthusiastic golfer and so is enjoying himself. He is the president of the Niles and Scott Metal and Wood Wheel company of La Port. They manufacture wheels and many implements for agricultural purposes.

Mrs. H. C. Sterick, who has for many years been a guest of the Despland each winter, is again domiciled there. She is from Cincinnati and finds the climate here just what she needs.

HOTEL CLARENDON

On Wednesday everything was in readiness at the Hotel Clarendon for the season's opening, which has been eagerly looked forward to by many people. Every person who forms a part of the big organization was at his post, and the doors of the beautiful dining room, overlooking the sea, was opened at noon for the first time this winter.

Either side of the long corridor leading to the dining room was lined with potted plants, and the room was very attractive, with glittering glass, china and flowers. The large room adjoining, which has been used as a breakfast room, will be opened and made a part of the general dining room. This was found necessary to accommodate the large number of visitors who will fill the place this season.

The dining room is under the skillful management of D. F. O'Keefe of Cambridge, Mass., who has for several years been associated with Manager C. J. Root at the big Mt. Washington hotel at Bretton Woods, N. H. In the summer time and at the Clarendon during the winter season. He is a very courteous young man and will have capable young women to render quick and obliging service.

R. L. Pollio of Washington, D. C., cashier, and F. B. Hanson of Wellington, Ohio, room clerk, are both at the Clarendon for their fourth year of service with Mr. Root. G. S. Eadie of Montreal, Canada, assistant clerk, is at the Clarendon for his first year. He is delighted with the place, the work and the big hotel and its environs, and says he hopes to come back many more seasons. Robert Carroll, who also is in the service at Mt. Washington hotel, is again at the Clarendon as clerk. Mr. Carroll is something of a farmer and has a fine orange grove located near St. Petersburg. His northern home is in Portland, Me.

COLLEGE ARMS

DELAND, Jan. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Porter, Mrs. C. H. Porter and Miss M. E. Hass, all of Chicago, were registered overnight on their way to Bellaire, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. George A. Fuller and party of six of Boston are stopping here for a few days breaking their trip to St. Petersburg, where they will have a cottage. They are friends of Mr. Shenk.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lloyd and their daughters, Misses Lida and Martha, arrived yesterday to be here a month. They are friends of Jim Barnes, the famous golf pro, and expect him down for the latter part of this week from Jacksonville.

Mrs. J. Gordon Fulton and Miss Jean Van Kirk of East Orange, N. J., arrived yesterday. They will be here during this month and will spend February at Allamonte, returning here for the month of March. They are friends of Henry Powell and are delighted with the warm weather here.

The old adage that there is nothing new under the sun is being disproved by Henry Powell, who is spending the season here. Mr. Powell has instituted a new diversion for the idle people in "The Edgemere Toddlers," and which is meeting with the approval of the younger guests, too.

With the weather here it was but natural that a good many were out this morning. A number seemed to enjoy sitting on the club porch to enjoy the sunshine. Yesterday saw W. W. Mead, U. S. N., out for the first time and Miss Helene V. Hill of Pittsburgh.

While there have been a number of interesting matches so far this year the best of the current season was played Saturday when Messrs. R. S. Miner and David E. Jewett took on D. E. Miner and Pug Allen. The former two won by three and two in a hard fought match noted for the spectacular driving of the defeated side. A small gallery followed the play.

D. E. Miner, pro at the hotel course, expects the latter part of this week an assistant in Tom Norton of Rosemont, Pa. Norton is a young pro of much promise.

Frank O'Brian of Waverly, Ill., is registered at the Dixie.

W. P. Bauer, who was one of the timers in 1919 and 1920 in the beach races, is a very happy man. He has just received from the Indian Motorcycle company a beautiful solid gold watch fob, appropriately inscribed. The inscription reads, "Presented to W. P. Bauer in recognition of meritorious services rendered as judge of Indian time trials at Daytona Beach, Fla., April, 1920." It is certainly a very appropriate remembrance, and Mr. Bauer is very proud of it. If there are any races here this year he will doubtless again be one of the timers and judges.

PRINCESS ISSENA

Among those who have recently taken up their abode at the Princess Isseena are Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Barcos of Puterson, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Groves of Ridgewood, N. J. Mr. Groves is an electrical engineer and will spend a season of rest and pleasure away from business cares. They are well pleased with the Florida sunshine and their surroundings at the Princess.

Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Lief, who have been spending some time at the Princess Isseena, departed Wednesday for their home in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wiegand and their son, Larry, who have been spending the holiday season with them at the Princess Isseena, are visiting Miami for a few days this week. They made the trip by auto. Their home is in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

PENINSULA LOCALS

Wednesday morning Marshal W. D. Young had seven speed and spotlight violators before Mayor Niven. They received the usual dose.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Marsh of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Mary Slaght of Orléans, Mich., are expected here the latter part of the week to spend the winter.

By Friday morning the complete, regular program, covering all entertainments in the Auditorium for this season, will be ready for distribution. Included in them will be the 24 numbers of the regular course, the entire Sunday afternoon Forum program and all special attractions, including the minstrels and the appearance of Billy Sunday. This complete schedule of future events can be obtained at all of the Triple City drug stores, at the Auditorium office and at the two Chambers of Commerce. It might be well to get a copy and learn what a musical and intellectual feast awaits this community.

Samuel Pickett, who has erected the concessions stand on the beach, has made a proposition to the Chamber of Commerce to pay half the expense of a 12-piece concert band for the beach. He says there are five good musicians in the Casino orchestra here who also play brass instruments, and that seven can be secured in Daytona. Mr. Pickett says he has a large organ band, but that he feels that the genuine would be more attractive. He was recently joined here by Henry Owen of Chicago, a moving picture machine operator, and J. W. Langford and Henry Wilson, concession experts. Mr. Pickett expects to give free moving picture performances.

Englishman Pays Tribute to Doctor Charles F. Goss

J. W. Fergie, the distinguished Englishman, who with his interesting family, consisting of Mrs. Fergie and three charming daughters, have for several weeks been the delightful guests of the Seaside Inn, says that he generally avoids church wherever he may be on Sunday, and that he has heard many of the foremost pulpit orators of the United States and says he has never heard one in this country that he enjoys more than Dr. Charles Frederick Goss. Mr. Fergie said:

"I have heard him for the past three Sundays, and each sermon was so grand and inspiring that really I cannot say which was the best. If there was any best, Dr. Goss is certainly a wonderful man, and this magnificence is indeed fortunate in having the services of such a noted divine. To say that he is not a pulpit in the world that he would not grace. It is certainly remarkable the way he expresses such beautiful thoughts and without the use of a single note. I shall certainly continue to hear him at every opportunity."
